January 2017

Next SJBAS Meeting – January 11th

The next SJBAS meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 11th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Lyceum at the Center of Southwest Studies at Fort Lewis College. After a brief business meeting, Michael Martin, Ph.D. will present, “Public History as ‘Speculative’ History through Archaeology: Pros and Cons.” A social before the meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. in the CSWS foyer.

Dr. Martin is Chair of the History Department at Fort Lewis College. He has been at FLC since 2004, serving in various roles as assistant professor, associate professor, and coordinator of the John F. Reed Honors Program and Gender and Women’s Studies Program. Dr. Martin has a B.A. in English from the University of Iowa, and a M.A. in Medieval Studies and Ph.D. in History from Western Michigan University.

Please note, the meeting is on Wednesday evening, not Thursday.

SJBAS Annual Meeting Report – December 8th

Our annual meeting was held in conjunction with our holiday party. After dinner, Janice officially closed the bidding for the Silent Auction, convened the annual meeting, and announced the winners of several door prizes. Mark Gebhardt, SJBAS treasurer, presented Shelby Tisdale, director of the Center of Southwest Studies, a $500 check from the John W. Sanders Internship Fund and presented an annual review of SJBAS finances. Mark explained that our society is on firm financial footing and that the John W. Sanders Internship Fund is doing well. Janice thanked Peggy Morris for her many years of volunteer service conducting silent auctions and raising thousands of dollars for the Internship Fund.

Janice explained that the SJBAS board has developed a member survey to gauge the interest of members in SJBAS activities and help guide the future direction of the society. The survey will be emailed to the membership in the middle of December; members should mail completed surveys to Barb Hancock or return them at the January 11th meeting.

Janice announced that Dr. Steve Lekson, CU Department of Anthropology, and Dr. Doug Owsley, Smithsonian Museum of Natural History, were both coming to make presentations to SJBAS in collaboration with Life Long Learning Lecture Series in 2017.

Then Janice proceeded with the election of SJBAS officers for 2017. She acknowledged that our current officers had agreed to serve another year. Janice requested a motion from the floor to add other names to the slate or approve it for 2017. There were no additional names put forth, and the slate was unanimously approved by the membership.

The slate of officers for Member vote is as follows:

President - Janice Sheftel
Vice President - Foxie Mason
Vice President - Jim Mueller
Secretary - Barb Hancock
Treasurer - Mark Gebhardt
PAAC Coordinator - Tish Varney
CAS Representative - Tish Varney
Publicity - Jill Tripp
Field Trips - Lyle Hancock

After the election, Lyle presented a review of 2016 field trips, a preliminary schedule of 2017 field trips and activities, and a brief review of the SJBAS website, www.sjbас.org. He encouraged members to visit the website, as it has a new look and many years of field trip reports in the Field Trip Archives page at www.sjbас.org/Archives.htm.

Membership Renewal

Membership renewals are due by January 31st. To renew or join SJBAS, follow this link to our Application forms. Print and complete the Annual Membership Form, "Waiver of Liability" and "Proper Etiquette" statements, make your check payable to 'SJBAS,' and mail just the one-page Annual Membership Form to our treasurer: Mark Gebhardt, 107 St. Andrews Circle, Durango, CO 81301. Please keep your signed Liability Waiver and Proper Etiquette forms for your records. Donations to the John W. Sanders Internship Fund may be included.

Member Survey

The Board has decided to survey SJBAS members to determine current priorities and interests. In the past, SJBAS has benefited tremendously from high levels of Member involvement in all aspects of club activities. For several years, however, the Board and other Members have observed a decline in volunteerism, club participation and Membership renewals. We want to keep the Society relevant to its Members. Without Member commitment and participation, our Society will lose its vibrancy.

Please follow this link to the Member Survey. Print and complete one survey per member and mail them to Barb Hancock, 33 Tanglewood Drive, Durango, CO 81301, before January 14th or bring them to the January 11th SJBAS meeting.

Your thoughtful completion of this survey and its return will be instrumental in helping shape the future of SJBAS.

Archaeology in the Southwest

President Obama Designates Bears Ears National Monument

President Barack Obama designated two national monuments Wednesday at sites in Utah and Nevada that have become flashpoints over use of public land in the West, marking the administration’s latest move to protect environmentally sensitive areas in its final days. The Bears Ears National Monument in Utah will cover 1.35 million acres in the Four Corners, the White House said. In a victory for Native American tribes and conservationists, the designation protects land that is considered sacred and is home to an estimated 100,000 archaeological sites, including ancient cliff dwellings. – Durango Herald (Read article)

Celebrating a Mammoth Dust-up in Bluff

In the early 1990s, after assisting Crow Canyon Archaeological Center researchers in recording the Sand Island rock art site near Bluff, Utah, local artist Joe Pachak made a mammoth discovery. He’d spotted what he believed to be a petroglyph depicting a Columbian mammoth, one of two species of woolly mammoth formerly endemic to North America and arguably the older of the two, superimposed with what also appeared to be a Pleistocene bison. - Archaeology Southwest blog (Read article)

New Podcast for Mesa Verde Region Archaeology

Visitors to Montezuma County may get a podcast tour guide when they explore archaeological sites next year. The Mesa Verde Country Visitor Information Bureau received $25,000 through a marketing matching-grant program. Kelly Kirkpatrick, director of tourism, plans to use the money to create podcasts to help visitors learn about the area’s rich archaeological history. – Durango Herald (Read article)

Public Gets a Look at the Paths to Mesa Verde Planning

More than 50 people crowded the Mancos Town Hall on the night of Dec. 15 for the first public outreach meeting on the Paths to Mesa Verde Trail. The proposal is a 17-mile, multiuse trail between Cortez and Mancos, stopping at the Montezuma County Fairgrounds, Phil’s World, Mesa Verde National Park and other locations along the way. In January, the project made Gov. John Hickenlooper’s “16 in 16” list of highest-priority trail ideas across the state. – Cortez Journal (Read article)
