The Moki Messenger

July 2015

Next SJBAS Meeting – July 9th

SJBAS member Fred Moeller will present some of his experiences taking part in excavations at the “Old Vero Man Site”, and Lynn Robinson, USFS Columbine Ranger District Archaeologist, will present an update on historic properties in the new Hermosa Special Management Area on the San Juan National Forest.

The “Old Vero Man Site” is near Vero Beach Florida. Human skeleton remains have been found together with extinct mega-fauna such as mammoths, mastodons, giant saber-tooth tigers, bear-sized sloths, a new species of tapir, and other large animals from the Late Ice Age or the Late Pleistocene period. There is still controversy regarding whether or not the humans were actually present at the same time as the mega-fauna.

June 11th SJBAS Meeting and Picnic Report

A soggy June does not deter the annual SJBAS membership outing! Although the SJBAS annual picnic was scheduled for June 11th at the Edgemont Picnic site, the ongoing rain showers made holding the picnic outdoors risky. A decision was made to move the event to the home of Fokie and Dick Mason on the East Animas Road, to avoid a possible “rain out.” Nearly 40 members attended the “patio picnic” which featured the regular annual picnic fare: bratwursts and buns, barbecued on the porch by volunteer members. The brats were accompanied by potluck side dishes and desserts along with lemonade, iced tea and BYOB libations. Conversations were lively and members enjoyed visiting with one another during the event. Co-Vice Presidents, Jim Mueller and Fokie Mason, planned the event but they had a lot of help from member volunteers who pitched in to set up and clean up at the event. Sadly, last year was likely to be the last time our group will meet at Edgemont Picnic grounds, since the grounds are being surveyed for housing lots which will replace this popular outside spot.

--- Fokie

SJBAS owes a big “thank you” to Fokie and Dick for the generous use of their home for the picnic!

CAS Annual Meeting and Conference at Fort Lewis College - October 9 - 11

SJBAS is excited to be hosting the CAS annual meeting and conference. This is a great opportunity for SJBAS members to participate in activities with the state organization that we all belong to. On Saturday the conference will include a number of archaeological papers and presentations and an evening banquet at the Fort Lewis College ballroom. A number of field trips to local archaeological sites and institutions will be available on Sunday. There will be many volunteer opportunities for SJBAS members to help with the conference. Follow the links below for more information and to register for the conference and field trips. Early registration will guarantee your choice of field trips with limited participation.

CAS Quarterly Meeting at Anasazi Heritage Center – July 25th – 26th

CAS and the Hisatsinom Chapter are planning an excellent Quarterly Meeting at the Anasazi Heritage Center near Cortez for July 25th with outstanding field trips on Sunday, July 26th, to the Chaco Pueblo II outlier at Yucca House, between Mesa Verde and Sleeping Ute Mountain, led by a Mesa Verde Park Ranger. The Park Service rarely gives this tour, especially on a Sunday, and we are privileged to have them do this on Sunday morning for about two hours. There will also be a tour of the Mitchell Springs Ruins Group led by David Dove especially for those of you who have excavated there with Dave. We are planning an excellent meeting on Saturday, July 25th, and will have a behind-the-scenes tour of the AHC Museum during the lunch hour led by Supervisory Curator Bridget Ambler. The Museum houses three and a half million Ancestral Puebloan artifacts, and participants will see many which are never seen by the public.

If you are interested in attending this meeting, please contact Janice Sheftel ASAP at jsheftel@mbssllp.com.

New SJBAS Members

SJBAS would like to welcome the following new members: Mary Gillam, Dennis Aronson, Thomas-James Trump, and Barron “Bear” Haley.

Thanks, Bill

SJBAS would like to thank Bill Cagle for providing an internal, informal audit of the SJBAS books.

2016 SJBAS Dues

PAAC Report

The PAAC course, Basic Site Survey Techniques (BSST), was held May 29th through June 1st at the Center of Southwest Studies on the Fort Lewis College campus. This 25-hour class was taught by Kevin Black, State Assistant Archaeologist. There were 30 registrants, with 26 able to attend. The class had a field exercise at the home of Mike Chapman where there are multiple sites and a possible large kiva.

I ran a little survey to determine how participants in the BSST class learned about the class. Half used the CAS website, a quarter used the local chapter and the remainder found out by word of mouth and the newspaper – equally split. SJBAS is likely to pick up some new memberships from this PAAC class and it received kudos from Kevin Black on the great field trips!!

In conjunction with the CAS Conference in Durango, Kevin will offer a one-day PAAC class after the CAS meeting October 11, 2015. This will be a FREE site form workshop offered for the first time on the west slope. It will run for 6-8 hours, depending on the number of participants and the number of specific issues with forms that need to be discussed. It is not a formal class, but more of a roundtable discussion on how to finalize site forms from a set of notes or messy, incomplete field forms for the statewide database.

I will be attending the PAAC Board meeting at CAS quarterly meeting on July 25 in Cortez, Colorado.

– Tish Varney, SJBAS PAAC Coordinator

Crow Canyon Archaeology Camps featured in USA Today

At Crow Canyon, middle school and high school students work with our archaeologists, helping to uncover America's ancient past. Crow Canyon's archaeology camps were named one of the 10 best adventure camps for kids by USA Today! Here's why:

At Crow Canyon, students age 12-18 do real archaeology, in the field and in the lab. It's an authentic introduction to the science of archaeology. Our current excavation site was inhabited by ancestral Pueblo Indians (Anasazi) more than 1,000 years ago.
